Dulles In Taipei For Talks With Chiang

Chinese Guns Bark End To Cease-Fire

Communists Pour Over 11,000 Shells On Offshore Isles

TAIPEI, Formosa, Tuesday (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived in Taipei Tuesday for defense talks with Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek less than 24 hours after the Chinese Communists broke the Quemoy cease-fire.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Red China's siege guns barked out an end to its self-imposed cease-fire around Quemoy Monday, laying a grave new situation before Secretary of State Dulles in his talks with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek.

At a stopover in Fairbanks, Alaska, Dulles termed it a tragedy that the Communists had decided to return to a "warlike disposition."

The Reds broke their 15-day cease-fire by pouring in more than 11,000 shells on Quemoy and other islands in 2 hours and 45 minutes. Later their guns turned to the Tan islets, a few miles off the Red island bastion of Amoy.

Ships Slightly Damaged

Nationalist supply ships caught at Quemoy beaches when the harbor opened were slightly damaged, the Nationalists said.

The reinforced Nationalist garrisons on Quemoy answered the Red fire. There was no report, however, on the intensity of the return fire.

The Communists tried to blame the end to the cease-fire on the United States. A Peiping broadcast said U.S. warships had escorted Nationalist supply vessels to Quemoy in violation of the set of rules set up by the Communists in establishing their cease-fire.

There was widespread feeling in Taipei that the Communists had used the presence of an American LSD in the general area as a ready-made excuse to resume bombardment on the eve of Dulles' arrival.

Crimp Put In U. S. Strategy

The Nationalist Chinese have called all of the Red actions a campaign to drive a wedge between the United States and Nationalist China.

Nationalists see the cease-fire termination as putting a crimp in U.S. talk of persuading Chiang to reduce Nationalist troop strength in the off-shore islands as a means of coaxing Red China to make the cease-fire permanent.

The Communists originally proclaimed a one-week cease-fire to begin Oct. 6, provided U.S. warships did not convoy Nationalist vessels. Later they extended it for two weeks under the same conditions.

At 4 p.m. Monday, Communist guns ringing the Quemoy group opened up; at 6:45 they went silent. Then at 8 p.m. they rained shells on Nationalist Tatan, a 96-acre islet only 2½ miles from Amoy.

Patient Dies In Hospital Fire

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—A flash fire broke out in a private 18-bed hospital Monday, burning to death one patient and injuring one other person.

Nurses led to safety 15 other patients.

The victim, who died screaming in bed in Doctors Hospital, a one-story wooden building, was identified as Mrs. Pearl Williams, 72. Her body was found sprawled grotesquely on her bed, her night clothes burned off and her seared hands clutching the headboard.

Late Pope Pius' Doctor Resigns Amid Tempest

Wrote Articles About Pontiff's Death Agonies

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church's College of Cardinals accepted Monday the resignation of the personal physician to the late Pope Pius XII as Vatican Health Services director.

The doctor, Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, has been the center of a storm of public protest over his sale of newspaper articles in Rome and abroad describing in detail the death agonies of Pius XII.

The startling development was made public two hours after a regular daily meeting of the cardinals now in the Vatican for the Oct. 25 conclave to elect a new Pope.

The Rome Medical Assn. decided Monday night to start a formal inquiry to determine whether Galeazzi-Lisi violated his professional obligations by selling the articles.

An unofficial report to newsmen at the Vatican, as yet unconfirmed, said Swiss Guards had been ordered to bar Galeazzi-Lisi henceforth from Vatican territory.

Storm Reaches Parliament

The storm over the articles has reached the proportions of a major scandal in the Roman press. The papers also are raising pointed questions about micro-camera photographs of the pontiff taken in his last hours in the early morning of Oct. 9.

The tempest has reached Italy's Parliament. One member has asked Premier Amintore Fanfani, a Christian Democrat, whether the Justice and Health Ministries might take action.

To help prepare a reply in Parliament to the question, a spokesman for Fanfani said he had instructed his aides to consult with officials to determine whether Galeazzi-Lisi had broken any laws and could be prosecuted.

Britain, in a similar note, also notified Moscow that it felt foreign ministers should sit in only at a later date. The talks are scheduled to get under way Oct. 31. The United States said it hoped they would lead to a "final termination" of all nuclear weapons test ban.

But the State Department, in a note delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow, said Dulles would attend at a later date if "the presence of foreign ministers seems necessary and desirable."

After a preliminary survey, the spokesman said, it "seems, however, there is not much that can be done to proceed against him unless there is an official complaint by the Vatican or the late Pope's family."

"Only Possible Solution"

Italian law makes it punishable to offend the chief of another sovereign state. Under Italy's Latran Pact with the Vatican, this applies to the Roman Catholic Pontif. There has been some question however, whether the law applies only to a living chief of state.

Galeazzi-Lisi's resignation was sent in a letter dated Saturday to Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals.

The Vatican newspaper, L'Oservatore Romano, said the physician who attended Pius XII through the last hours and developed an embalming process intended to preserve his body indefinitely, had written to Cardinal Tisserant:

"I ask you to receive and present to the Sacred College of the Holy Roman Church my resignation from the office of director of Health Services of Vatican City."

It was accepted.

Sources close to the Vatican said the resignation was "the only possible solution."

West Refuses To Raise Level Of Atom Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States Monday rejected Russia's proposal that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles be present at the beginning of Geneva talks on an atomic weapons test ban.

The State Department, in a note delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow, said Dulles would attend at a later date if "the presence of foreign ministers seems necessary and desirable."

American and western experts will meet here Tuesday in connection with another series of Geneva talks due to open Nov. 10. The United States said it hoped they would lead to a "final termination" of all nuclear weapons tests.

The U.S. note to Russia on the atomic test meeting reiterated President Eisenhower's Aug. 22 proposal for a year-to-year suspension of tests if sufficient progress were made on an international control and inspection system, plus other phases of disarmament.

The allied experts will try to agree on their approach to the question at a two-day discussion.

Among the nations participating are the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy.

Russia has not said whether it will abide by the President's plan for the one-year test suspension starting Oct. 31.

Woman Spy Apparently Engineered Defecting Russian's Return To Reds

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet woman spy who uses knockout drops emerged Monday as the possible key figure in slipping a defecting Soviet tank driver back into the arms of the Russians.

The return of the Russian to the Soviet Union has left some faces red in Britain's famed intelligence corps.

Not much is known about the woman.

The best guesses dispel any notion of a glamorous modern-day Mata Hari. They say she's middle-aged and Russian.

Members of the British Movement for Freedom in Russia are convinced she engineered the disappearance of the defector, practically under the noses of Scotland Yard special agents detailed to guard special tanks.

The soldier, a former tank driver, Sgt. Anatoli Ponomarenko, in the Soviet Regime. Ponomarenko had 70 days of freedom in England after deserting his unit in then he disappeared.

East Germany last December.

He fled to British military authorities in West Berlin, who shortly received notice from Ponomarenko's commanding officer that the deserter was wanted for the murder of a comrade.

The British replied Ponomarenko's pistol had not been fired since it was made and granted him political asylum.

When he came to England, the soldier was given a special Scotland Yard guard, and he joined a Russian emigre movement. He helped write pamphlets calling on Soviet soldiers to desert and attacked communism in radio and television broadcasts.

Then, last March, he made two frantic telephone calls to two friends in the National Alliance of Russian Solidarists, an emigre movement dedicated to overthrowing the Soviet Regime. Ponomarenko couldn't reach either friend.

The Soviet Embassy in London said Ponomarenko came in voluntarily and asked to be sent home. The British government appeared satisfied that he went on his own. But Mrs. Bower was not.

"He had gone back to Russia voluntarily," she said Monday. "He would have been used for propaganda purposes. ... We'd be hearing about it by now."

Said Mrs. Robert Bower, acting chairman of the British Movement for Freedom in Russia: "We believe he was lured by a woman, drugged and taken to the Soviet Embassy."

"We know that just before he disappeared he became friendly with a middle-aged Russian woman."

The movement had sponsored

Ponomarenko's attempts to become a truck driver in Britain. Only this week end its members learned he had left the country between March 14 and 18.

Election Campaign Hits Brisker Note

By The Associated Press
President Eisenhower and former President Truman sought present and reservations about votes at opposite ends of the future." Johnson said in an address. "In every crisis, it turns instinctively to an examination of our weaknesses to determine what cannot be done."

While Eisenhower put the finishing touches to what his aides promised would be a hard-hitting speech in Los Angeles, Truman urged the re-election of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

"You people ought not to turn down a man like the governor, who is a good administrator."

Truman told newsmen in New York City, "If Harriman does not win, then you ought to get what's coming to you, and no doubt will."

Truman said Harriman's Republican opponent, Nelson A. Rockefeller, was "just a public relations man for President Roosevelt and myself. He had no administrative duties and thus he's had no experience."

Eisenhower is on a 5,300-mile campaign tour. During his two-day visit to California, a major political battleground this year, aides indicated he would put in some hard plugs for the GOP.

In Nashville, Tenn., Monday night, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas accused the Republicans of trying "to take America backward."

Army Recruits Tell Of Dunking In Grease Trap

FT. JACKSON, S. C. (UPI)—A Georgia soldier testified Monday M. Sgt. George R. Sovie ordered three recruits to thrust him head first and eyebrow deep into a mess hall grease trap as punishment for putting his hands on a table.

Pvt. George L. Sheffield of Fairburn, Ga., said Sovie hustled him out of the mess hall last July when he put his hands on a table contrary to an order from the top sergeant.

A parade of other privates testified that Sovie — on trial by general court martial at this big infantry base — kicked and slugged rookies and made others eat dollar bills as punishment.

Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was the first of three non-coms or officers to go on trial in connection with alleged mistreatment of recruits in Co. B, 4th Battalion, 1st Training Regiment.

Scheduled for trial later are 1st Lt. Gerald Wheatley, 24, of Bridgeton, N.J., and SFC Charles L. Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala.

The alleged mistreatment occurred during the past summer.

Pvt. Jerry D. Lazebny of Greenwood, S.C., one of the men who dunked Sheffield, said the punishment had been ordered by Moman, not Sovie, and had lasted only about 20 seconds. Sheffield said his head was in the grease "two or three minutes."

Pvt. Willies E. Stanley of Brunson, S.C., said "it was pretty rough in that company" when he took the stand. Stanley said Sovie ordered him to take two $1 bills from his pocket and give one to Pvt. William G. Vaughan.

He said Sovie ordered the two recruits to eat the money and they complied.

"It was kind of hard to eat that money," Stanley said.

Pvt. Grady B. Holland of Pikeville, Tenn., said Sovie stamped on his foot after he failed to stand at attention while serving coffee to Lt. Wheatley.

State Court Asked To Delay Casino Ban Pending Appeal

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland court of appeals was asked Monday to delay immediate enforcement of a decree which would close gambling casinos on the Potomac River until the Supreme Court of the United States can rule on the legality of a new state appeal's bench's order of Oct. 15 to file their appeal in Washington.

Last Wednesday, the Maryland court reversed the St. Marys County court and upheld the validity of an act of the 1958 "short session" of the General Assembly. The new law bans operation of slot machines in any establishment on a Maryland-owned river which cannot be reached by foot from the Maryland shore.

The casinos in question have been operating in the Potomac opposite Charles and St. Marys counties, which granted them licenses. But the entrance to the places are from the Virginia shore. Virginia law prohibits gambling devices and sale of whiskey by the drink.

Owners of the casinos in fighting the law argued it was unconstitutional because it was local legislation enacted by the Assembly at a session restricted by Constitution to budgetary matters and matters of statewide nature.

School Explains Nude Silhouette Photos Of Girls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two young brothers died Monday when fire raced through a brick row house in northeast Washington. Several other children were rescued by relatives and neighbors.

The two victims—Michael Mack, 4, and his brother Dennis, 3—were found unconscious on the smoke-filled second floor of the burning house. They were sons of Annie Lee Mack, who had gone to work as a cook at 5 a.m.

Firemen said the two boys were playing in a closet where the fire broke out. When the flames started, they ran upstairs where their grandmother was dressing two other children for school.

The grandmother, Mrs. Rosebud Back, 43, led these two children out of the house and also rescued a 1½-year-old infant from the first floor.

The two boys, however, apparently panicked and remained upstairs where firemen found them after breaking out two second floor windows.

The female gym teacher said a true silhouette of the body is obtained only if the subject wears no garments.

The prints are used to recommend corrective exercises, and are kept in a locked file when not in use by the teacher.

Dr. Hawkins said a similar plan would be started for the school's male students except that the staff is not large enough.

He said the program for girls was begun in the 1930's when co-eds outnumbered men about 4-1.

There also are improved pension benefits in the new pact.

About 800 are expected to go back in the current work recall.

The workers, who belong to Local 31, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, were on strike five weeks.

About 2,100 employees of the dry-dock company were involved in all.

Super Tanker Will Be Launched Today

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 46,000 deadweight ton tanker, the S.S. Brighton will be launched Tuesday at the Sparrows Point shipyard of Bethlehem Steel.

Lady Beetham, wife of Sir Edward Beetham, governor and commander-in-chief of Trinidad and Tobago, will christen the huge vessel. The Brighton was built for the Texas Co.

The new tanker, with an overall length of 736 feet, is longer than the noted passenger ships, America, Constitution and Independence. It can travel at 16 knots.

Butler Hits Ike's "Failure" To Cope With Recessions

FOLLANSBEE, W. Va. (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler said Monday there might have been no recession if President Eisenhower had put as much effort into getting money for those in need... as he puts into raising funds for the Republican war chest.

Speaking at a Democratic dinner rally here, Butler attacked Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon for alleged failure to provide leadership on issues like unemployment compensation, area redevelopment, an expanding economy and community facilities.

"One reason we didn't get administration leadership is contained in a dispatch from Washington... which reports that at a White House stag dinner the chief executive put on the pressure and obtained pledges reported to be about $1,000,000 from large contributors," he said.

"How many of those large contributors are interested in an enlarged and humane extension of unemployment compensation?"

How many of them do you think urged the President to get a depressed areas bill passed?" Butler asked.

"When President Eisenhower can hold a single stag dinner and raise a million dollars for the Re-civilian control.

publican propaganda mill, it is no wonder that Vice President Nixon into his smug announcements, Jennings Randolph, candidate for unexpired two-year Senate term, who said the administration "is not meeting its full responsibility to promote maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

Also addressing the rally was Jennings Randolph, candidate for unexpired two-year Senate term, who said the administration "is not meeting its full responsibility to promote maximum employment, production and purchasing power."

REV. MRS. LLOYD TROUT

Mission Ministers Married

The marriage of Rev. Helen Stalnaker of Youngwood, Pa., to Rev. Lloyd Trout of Hunkers, Pa., was solemnized in the Guiding Light Mission Tabernacle in Grantsville, October 4, with Rev. Aloda Grove officiating. Lighted candles, yellow chrysanthemums and everglaze cotton and carried a white gladioli against a back-basket of flower petals.

Over 100 guests were received at a reception held in Accidental, following the ceremony. After a wedding trip to the Atlantic coast, the couple will reside in their new home they are building next to the mission tabernacle.

Double M Club Plans Socials

The Double M Club planned two socials at the meeting held in the form of a progressive dinner party. The first course was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webster, the main course at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Baker. The business session was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell, each receiving a silver ribbon, specially printed for the occasion.

Plans were made for a family roller skating party to be held at the armory in November. A Christmas dinner party to be held at Moon's Dining Room, also was discussed.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zucker, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. John Groves, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Easton and Mrs. Millie VanSickle.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hebel, LaVale, are spending the week in Reading, Pa., where the former will attend a meeting of the College of the Ancient, a side issue of the Knights of Malta; also the banquet of the Supreme Commandery of Knights of Malta.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Footnotes

There's an Empire revival in shoes. They're changing as much as clothes this fall.

Footnotes follow the high-waisted look of ready-to-wear. The strapped slipper is the newest trend. Ankle straps, diagonal straps and T-straps, wider at the base and narrowing to a high cross-strap, appear in a number of smart versions and many materials.

The strapped shoe looks new and will certainly attract attention. Shoe and stocking should agree in color. And be sure the seams are straight. New shoes or the most beautiful legs are spoiled by crooked stockings.

Here's a trick to placing your seams so they'll stay put. First, fix your girdle and adjust it exactly right. Then after your foot is in the stocking (be careful not to snag them with your nails or rings), grasp the seam with your thumb. Then as you pull the stocking up, let the thumb trace a straight line up the back of the leg, past the knee to the end of the stocking. Hook the back garters first. Then stand up and check seams in the mirror. Then, while standing, fasten the other garters.

Be careful never to permit the heels of your shoes to run over. This ruins the neat appearance of your feet and spoils the carriage.

Nursing Convention Report Made

Sister Theodora, director of the School of Nursing of Sacred Heart Hospital, representing Mrs. Marietta Early, president of District 1, at the annual convention of the Maryland State Nurses Association and the Maryland League for Nursing, gave her report. The convention was held at the Southern Hotel, Baltimore, October 13-17. The theme was "Continuity of Nursing Care."

At all the meetings the care of the patient was discussed with the major emphasis on the nursing team which includes both professional and non-professional personnel. Because of the great shortage of nurses, the professional nurses were advised to work with the nonprofessional personnel for the complete care of the patient. It was decided that a merger of the National League for Nursing and the American Nurses Association is not desirable at this particular time as each has its separate functions and will be needed for the smooth running of the nursing profession. Senator George L. Radcliffe of Maryland spoke concerning the stabilization on the staff of personnel, both professional and non-professional, as a means of total patient care.

The nurses in industry have changed the name of their section from Industrial Nurses to Occupational Health Nurses Association. In-Service Education was stressed at all meetings both on professional and non-professional levels, as a means of eliminating the turnover in personnel.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Shockley, nursery supervisor at Memorial Hospital, was the other delegate from District 1. She will report at the November meeting.

Circle 2 will hold a rummage sale from 7 until 9 tonight in the basement of Centre Street Methodist Church.

Chairman For Basket Appointed

The Flintstone PTA honored Mrs. Isabelle Laughlin, Cumberland, at a program, Thursday at the school. Mrs. Laughlin, health nurse of the Flintstone-Oldtown area for the past 30 years, is retiring. She has been a public health nurse since November 1925.

On behalf of the faculty and school, Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland presented a silver tray and orchid corsage to Mrs. Laughlin. Mrs. Audrie Thompson, president of the PTA, presented her with a robe.

Dr. Tom Van Strien, county health officer, was guest speaker. He spoke generally of the health program with emphasis on the Flintstone Baby Clinic. He introduced the new health nurse, Mrs. William Taylor, who also was presented a corsage.

Announcement was made of the Fun Fair to be held at the school on November 7.

GFWC To Honor Queen Frederika

The General Federation of Women's Clubs will hold a reception October 24, at 10:30 o'clock honoring Queen Frederika of Greece and her daughter, Princess Sophia. This will be the second visit of the queen to the General Federation headquarters. In 1953 both the king and queen were honored at a Federation reception when they made their official visit to Washington.

Queen Frederika has displayed keen interest in the Federation, since there are 40 active clubs in Greece holding membership in the General Federation.

Beautification Committee Approved By City Council

Appointment of a civic beautification committee received approval of the Mayor and Council yesterday.

At the suggestion of Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, council also approved appointment of Mrs. G. Bates Chaires, 203 Greene Street, as chairman of the committee. Mrs. Chaires is head of the civic improvement committee of the Woman's Civic Club, which last week sponsored a meeting at which leaders of the Governor's Committee on the beautification project spoke. The club has also had a program of its own under way here for some time.

Mrs. Roeder pointed this out in making the suggestion for a municipal committee which would include members of the Mayor and Council. Efforts can be coordinated on a local, state and federal basis, she said, so the program can be efficiently organized and planned. Mrs. Roeder said the beautification project would not be confined to just the committee, but added "Others can help, too."

John H. Trost, 307 Central Avenue, spoke briefly on the city's anti-litter ordinance and suggested violators be arrested. Council also heard from Karl Taschenberger, Fort Hill High School student, who asked that direction signs be placed for out-of-town representatives to the protest alleged rough tactics statewide drama program which by a visiting team.

Church Group Donates $400 For Building

The Fort Hill Players will host the Fort Hill Players will host. Permission was granted.

Lee Marple, North Centre Street, asked about the status of the present National Guard Armory when the new structure is completed in Ridgedale Addition.

He was told the city has first option on the old building but the matter is being held in abeyance until the new one is completed.

Walter Brock, of Brock's Scrap and Salvage Company, 220 West Offutt Street, applied for a tax exemption on his business. The matter was referred to City Attorney William R. Carscadden.

Also referred to Carscadden was a request for adjustment in taxes on property at 6, 8 and 10 Baltimore Street which Loraine Eisenberg, agent for the Gustave Eisenberg estate, said was not rentable because of the flood control project.

Council accepted an invitation to attend the Junior Association of Commerce "Pancake Day" event November 10 as "Official Flapjack Flippers." Earlier, council approved requests of the Jaycees for sound equipment and promotional stunts in connection with the pancake event.

FANS STORM FIELD

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — Two policemen and 18 other persons were injured Sunday by irate soccer fans who stormed the field to protest alleged rough tactics

The group sponsors the annual reception of new church members in May; the "welcome home" for the pastor and his family after each annual vacation, an event that attracts from 400 to 500 people; the annual "Sons of St. Luke's Night," the church's Christmas decorations, and helped to send seven young people to the national convention of the Luther League at University of Kansas last summer.

Local Girl Named Queen For Game

Miss Virginia Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris of 306 Fayette Street, is one of 14 Grinnell College coeds selected to reign over a traditional intramural touch-football game Wednesday at Grinnell, Iowa.

Teams from two of the men's residence halls, North Younker and South Younker, will play in the annual "classic," before a court composed of two "queens" from each of the seven women's halls.

Miss Morris, a freshman at Grinnell, is a 1958 graduate of Pottsville (Pa.) High School.

Police End Patrol After Bomb Scare

City, state and county authorities have lifted their police guard from two local Catholic churches.

City police, state troopers and members of the sheriff's office were assigned to St. Patrick's and St. Peter and Paul's churches after a "bomb" threat was made last week.

Authorities said a woman telephoned one of the churches saying she was "going to bomb the church Saturday night."

The special details patrolled the churches on a 24-hour basis Saturday and Sunday.

Clerk Post Created In Water Office

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved creation of the position of a second clerk in the use of the Water Department. Water Department and requested the Cumberland Civil Service Commission to conduct an examination.

The action was one of a number of routine matters which came before council this morning.

In action on several bid proposals, council rejected all bids on a new and used Diesel tractor for use of the city dump. Last week it had accepted a proposal for repairing the one in operation at the dump.

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized to buy a 40-ton carload of calcium chloride.

Council received bids on three proposals. Allen M. Sell and Son and John S. Cook and Son submitted bids on a sidewalk repair project in front of the Coca-Cola Bottling Works on Greene Street. There were referred to Long and City Engineer Charles P. Nuzum.

Pike's Garage, Penn-Mar Motor Company, Light and Decker Company, Rish Equipment Company of Clarksburg, and Morgan Brothers Industrial Sales of company. Mayor J. Edwin Keech was authorized to execute the release.

Council issued two proclamations, one naming the week of October 19-25 as "National Thrift Week" and the other naming November 11 as "Veterans Day."

In connection with the latter, council accepted an invitation from the sponsoring Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, to participate in the Veterans Day parade here. The parade will form at the State Armory at 7:30 p. m. November 11 and move at 8:30 p. m.

IRAN FIGHTS CORRUPTION

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Shah Mohamed Reza Pahlevi and the Iranian government have announced drastic measures to combat corruption. A royal decree forbids all members of the royal household to be owners, partners or lawyers of companies either financed or controlled by the state. The cabinet introduced a bill to enforce similar restrictions on members of parliament, cabinet members and other officials on the government payroll.

On the art of using money wisely

Suppose that from time to time you have a little money left over after you've paid the bills and made provision for emergencies.

Suppose you know there are millions of American families getting extra income from dividends on stock or interest on bonds. And that you would like that kind of second income for yourself.

You might start with these simple facts:

To buy stocks or bonds you must first find someone who wants to sell. This is where the New York Stock Exchange and Member Firms come in. The Exchange is the market place where the stocks and bonds of most of America's greatest corporations are bought and sold by people like you all over the country. To be listed initially there, a company must be able to meet many stringent requirements.

Strict rules

Each Member Firm, too, must meet and conform to many strict rules. And those who deal with investors must pass a rigorous examination of knowledge and reputation before becoming a Registered Representative.

Let's say you're ready to invest. Since not all security firms are Members, you first select a nearby Member Firm. (They're specially listed among stock brokers in your classified directory.) To a Partner or Registered Representative you might say, "I'm no plutocrat, but I'd like to look into stocks and bonds with the idea of getting a second income. Can you help me?"

Facts and advice

Of course he can. No one knows better than he the importance of good advice. For a company may not pay a dividend or make a profit. Stock and bond prices go down as well as up. The essential thing is to get facts — never depend on tips or rumors.

He'll share with you, without charge, his knowledge of securities. Member Firms spend millions of dollars, all told, in research to get useful information for investors. He'll help you buy or sell. And from time to time ask him to review your securities with you.

Ask for booklet

He'll be glad, too, to present you with a booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS," that gives the records of more than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to 100 years. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month.

Once you've decided what to buy, or sell, your Member Firm promptly notifies its representative on the trading floor of the Exchange and the transaction may be completed within minutes.

If you'd rather get a free copy of that excellent booklet by mail, just send the coupon now.

Keyser Guard Unit Has Quota Of 4 Enlistees

Ex-Servicemen Get Preference

School Secretary Successor Named

KEYSER — Special authority has been given to Battery C, 201st Armored Field Artillery, Keyser National Guard, to enlist four men. The ceiling strength is set and maintained by Headquarters, 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion under orders of the adjutant general of West Virginia National Guard, Gen. William E. Blake.

The permission granted by battalion headquarters, will permit an increase of four men. Captain Henry E. Wilt, commanding officer here, stated that these men must be prior service personnel, or high school senior students who, upon graduation can take the required six months active duty training. High school students cannot be enlisted until permission by the adjutant general has been given for the individual to enter the RFA-53 program.

At present there is a department of the army restricted quota for each month. A high school student, would, upon graduation, or not less than 120 days thereafter, be ordered to six months basic training at a regular army recruit training center. Prior service personnel need only be assigned to fill a unit vacancy after enlistment.

The strength of the local unit is still restricted because of limitations on the overall total of the National Guard of the United States, Capt. Wilt said. Applicants for enlistment in the unit will be interviewed, tested and screened by Chief Warrant Officer Robert L. Brummage, administrative officer.

Police Solve Robberies Of Gas Stations

ROMNEY — The local detachment of West Virginia State Police have solved the breaking and entering of two area service stations, according to Sgt. W. Frank Bowley, who said two young men are involved.

Being held are Robert Smith, 22, and a 17-year-old youth, both of Petersburg. Sgt. Bowley explaining that the two have admitted to breaking in a service station at Augusta on October 8, and one on State Route 28 near Romney three nights later.

The young men are being held in Petersburg jail where Smith is charged with another breaking and entering offence, and the juvenile is awaiting a hearing on a misdemeanor charge that occurred in Moorefield.

Sgt. Bowley said windows were broken to gain entry to both service stations. Cigars and cigarettes were taken in each instance, the detachment commander said, adding that three rifles were also stolen from the Augusta business, while shells and a shotgun were taken from the service station on Route 28.

The three weapons and some cigars have been recovered.

Prosecution on the Hampshire County charges will be held up on a pending disposition of the counts pending against the young men, the American Society of Industrial Designers here.

W.Md. Railway Granted Review Order By Court

Elkins-Durbin Service Involved

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The State Supreme Court Monday unanimously granted review of an order which has kept the Western Maryland Railway from going out of the passenger business entirely.

The railroad appealed from a July 28 Public Service Commission order.

The case involves mixed passenger and freight trains Nos. 153 and 154, operated over the 47-mile route between Elkins and Durbin, Pocahontas County. Previously, the trains were operated one each way daily except Sunday.

Western Maryland applied to the PSC for authority to discontinue passenger service on the trains, the only remaining passenger runs anywhere in the railroad's system.

After a hearing, the PSC authorized discontinuance of Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday passenger service, but required that it be continued on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The PSC informed the Superior Court that "there was a public need for this service in the remote area of West Virginia that is served by the trains."

Turkey Check Points Listed For W. Virginia

ROMNEY — The West Virginia Conservation Commission again has set up checking stations throughout the area open to wild turkey hunting. Successful hunters are required by law to make a written report to the Director of Conservation or to local conservation officers, within 10 days from the date of kill.

Hunters are urged to check their turkeys at one of these stations where it will be aged, sexed and weighed. This will supply the research division with information and relieve the hunter of the responsibility of reporting the kill in writing.

The turkey checking stations in West Virginia's Eastern Panhandle include:

Grant County, Weimer Brothers, Maysville; Mill's Esso Station, Mt. Storm; Script's Esso Station, Bayard; Evans Store, Scherr; National Service Station, Petersburg; North Fork Cottages, Hopeville.

Hampshire County, Delray Post Office, Rio Post Office, Long's Store, Yellow Springs, Capon Bridge Post Office, Bloomery Post Office, Cowgill's Service Station, Slanesville; Points Post Office, Cherry's Store, Springfield; Hephner's Gulf Station, Romney; McGee's Store, Purgitsville; Conservation Commission office, Romney.

Hardy County, See's Esso Station, Wardensville; Crider's Service Station, Fabius; Raymond Bean's Service Station, Mathias; Larry's Grill, Lost River; Baker Post Office, Bill's Sport Shop, Moorefield; Wolfe's Service Station, the South Fork.

Mineral County, Bailey's Esso Station, Keyser; Lou's Auto Store, Piedmont; Wagoner and Bean Service Station, Fort Ashby; Umstot and Wilson, Burlington.

Morgan County, Mechem's Esso Station, Great Capon; Ridge Post Office, Sleepy Creek Post Office, Hunter's Hardware, Berkeley Springs; Morton's Grocery, Paw Paw.

Pendleton County, Pendleton Supply Company, Brandywine; Sugar Grove Post Office, Sites Service Station, Franklin; L. B. Sites, Store, Onego; Hartman's Store, Cherry Grove.

The body is at the Leighton Funeral Home here where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. (EST) by Rev. Grover Poole, pastor of Bayard United Brethren Church. Burial will be in Queens Point Cemetery, Keyser.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wenrich, Pittsburgh, visited their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stevenson.

Long Defends Statement On Program

Street Commissioner John J. Long in a letter submitted and yesterday's meeting that will be held before the Mayor and Council in the near future when all members will be present, a meeting will be held at which the members will concentrate our time and efforts on constructive criticisms of the of all departments, not just one. proposals each of us will be will be determined and a discussion making from time to time and be will be held on what action a bit more tolerant of each other's personalities."

Long's statement was made in response to one signed by the other members of council last week in which they were critical of the procedure used by Long in presenting a proposed four-year plan for street and sewer improvement. Long was not present at yesterday's meeting and his statement was read into the record. He is attending the National Safety Congress in Chicago as a representative of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company Works 7 of which he is director of safety and plant protection.

Street Commissioner John J. Mayor J. Edwin Keech said at the time to inform the people of Cumberland of the present conditions and needs of this Department and to ask them to cooperate with us in raising by referendum through a street and sewer bond issue, the necessary funds to carry out a 'four-year plan of street and sewer improvements. Then, when the Thruway is completed in a few years, our adjoining streets, alleys and sewers will be as modern as the Thruway. The trend of increased automobile traffic makes such a plan a necessity. In fact, it is long overdue. The citizens of Cumberland have waited a long time for good streets, alleys and sewers, and deserve them.'

"In addition I promised that a more detailed plan would be forthcoming. On October 6, a copy of the 'Proposed Four-Year Plan for Street and Sewer Improvements' was given to each of you with the request that you study it and offer suggestions.

"On October 8 this plan was given to the press so that everybody affected by it might have an opportunity to study it and make suggestions (and this plan affects nearly every property owner in the city). The fastest and most effective way I know of getting a plan into the hands of the people is via the newspapers."

"As a result I have already made many revisions on my copy. For instance, did any of you know that Avondale Avenue has no sewer? They use septic tanks. This problem was not included in the Plan because we over looked it. The people on the street informed me of the omission after reading the proposed four year plan in the press.

"Four years is a short period of time in which to accomplish all the good that a dedicated public servant should strive towards. I am sure Mr. Mayor and members of the Council, you are each dedicated public servants or you would not have sought the headaches and responsibilities of the offices you hold.

"If in my zeal to 'Get this show on the road' I offended the four of you, I apologize.

"May I humbly suggest that we concentrate our time and efforts on constructive criticisms of the proposals each of us will be making from time to time and be a bit more tolerant of each other's personalities."

Sentence Is Withheld In Larceny Case

Sentencing of two men charged with larceny and receiving stolen goods was withheld yesterday in Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris after they entered guilty pleas.

The men, Eugene Swick, 27, city, and Harry Harvey, 46, of Connellsburg, Pa., were arrested in connection with the burglary at the Harris Motor Express Company warehouse August 11.

Swick, and a man named Martin Luther Hare (who is now in jail at Keyser in another case), went to the warehouse early on the morning of August 11 and after entering through a window took eight cases of cigarettes valued at $80.

Harvey, who is married and the father of nine children, accompanied the two men to Connellsburg with six cases of cigarettes. Swick had hidden two cases along the old C&O Canal, according to State's Attorney James S. Getty.

It developed that Harvey was able to sell only two cases of the cigarettes and received $200 for them. Of this amount he gave a total of $110 to Swick and Hare. The men admitted to the thefts in statements October 13 to the state's attorney's office.

Harold E. Naughton, defense attorney, told the court that Harvey has never been in any previous trouble. The man has worked for 15 years for the B&O Railroad and had been furloughed much of the past six months or so and when Swick and Hare contacted him in the disposal of the cigarettes, he saw a chance to make a "fast dollar," Naughton told the court.

Swick has a previous record dating back to 1945 on charges of burglary, larceny and parole violation, according to State's Attorney Getty.

Judge Harris remanded the two men to the county jail pending a pre-sentencing investigation of their backgrounds by David M. Steele, probation officer.

Five Hunters Fined For Killing Turkey

Five hunters from the Washington suburban area paid $140 for one measly wild turkey because they were too eager and killed the bird a day before the season opened in Allegany County.

The hunters, Edward Clites, of Mayor and Council Chaires Gaithersburg; Allen Ritch, of Bethesda; Douglas Teagle and one-way street setup on Fred-Eugene L. Whittaker, both of Cabin John, and Richard Moore, the city was complying with federal regulations on the traffic their possession when arrested.

The men, Eugene Swick, 27, city, and Harry Harvey, 46, of Connellsburg, Pa., were arrested in connection with the burglary at the Harris Motor Express Company warehouse August 11.

The men were tried Saturday before Magistrate Dayton Lewis at Oldtown and he assessed each with U. S. regulations for traffic one $25 and costs. They were on the two streets, it would have been responsible for the $20,000 withheld from the state under the urban aid project, officials pointed out.

The average wild turkey weighs about six pounds dressed so it can be calculated that the men paid about $24 per pound for their illegal bird.

Two Injured In Accident Near Ridgeley

Two young men were hospitalized here following a two-car collision late Sunday night on West Virginia Route 28 about one and a half miles south of Ridgeley.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital were Paul Henry Apple, 18, of 7 Virginia Avenue, and Richard Rudolph, about 20, Central Avenue, driver of one of the cars.

Attaches said Apple sustained multiple lacerations of his right ear and was in "satisfactory" condition last night.

Rudolph was released from the hospital yesterday. Driver of the other car was Donald Woldorf, about 20, of RD 1, Ridgeley.

Chief of Police Jack Cornett of Ridgeley said that the accident occurred when the car driven by Rudolph passed another car on the brow of Reed's Hill and crashed head-on into the Woldorf car which was traveling north toward Ridgeley.

Cornett said Rudolph appeared before C. J. Phillips, justice of the peace, in Ridgeley, and posted $25.50 bond on a charge of improper passing.

No date has been set for a hearing.

William "Buck" Brant, this city, was given a six-month suspended sentence by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court when his appeal was heard yesterday but decided that the terms of his probation were too stiff and asked permission to continue serving his sentence in the county jail.

Brant was charged with being an habitual drunkard. His wish was granted by Judge Harris.

After the sentence was passed a spokesman for the sheriff's of-ice said Brant was a "good man" and he was given the opportunity to spend the time in the jail.

On August 20 this year Brant was sentenced to six months in the Maryland House of Correction.

The defendant appealed his case which was heard yesterday.

Magistrate Morris Barns's sentence was upheld by Judge Harrison who said the terms of the suspended sentence would be that

Brant would have to abstain from alcoholic beverages, be of good behaviour and get out of town.

Ike Stumps For His Party's Men

President Eisenhower speaks in San Francisco today, Chicago on Wednesday, in behalf of Republican candidates for Congress and state offices. He was expected to repeat his September 15, 1956 statement that our government "operates most efficiently when the executive and legislative branches are operated by the same political party."

But although in 1956 the President himself won by another landslide, he failed to project his own victory into one for his party in Congress. The Democrats retained their majorities in both branches by about the same margins. It was the first time since 1848, before the present Republican Party was founded, that a party had won the Presidency and lost both the Senate and the House.

The President spoke in person in ten states in the 1956 campaign. A study of the election results for Congress in those states shows that the GOP just about held its own in them, as it did in the nation as a whole.

In Iowa the GOP lost one House seat but elected a Senator by an increased majority. In Illinois it gained a House seat. It lost a Senate seat in Ohio (to the popular Gov. Frank J. Lausche, D.), but gained one in Kentucky (the popular Alben W. Barkley, D., had died). In Pennsylvania the Republicans lost a seat in the Senate, gained one in the House.

In New York the GOP gained a Senate seat, but it lost two House seats each in Oregon and California. In Washington and Florida, no changes by parties. It is not known whether Vice President Nixon had these results in mind on October 14 when he said in Chicago that party workers who say Ike can't help just now don't know what they're talking about, for "he's a most effective political operator."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Peculiar Campaign

I meet New York Republicans who say that they will not vote for Nelson Rockefeller; I meet Democrats who will not vote for Averell Harriman. The Republicans who will not vote for Rockefeller object to him because they say he is a New Deal Liberal; the Democrats who will not vote for Harriman are annoyed with his treatment of Jim Farley.

But there is something more than that and it may become explosive in 1960. It is a feeling that parties no longer mean anything and that candidates only want to be elected and will say anything and do anything with that end in view. It is as though all were well with the world and that there is nothing to talk about.

But actually there is very much to talk about. Senator Barry Goldwater is risking his political life in Arizona, talking about an important issue, the right-to-work; Senator William Knowland is risking a great career in California over the same issue. It is something to debate.

Certainly when any group develops an excess of power in a Republic, the people sooner or later, tear them down from their exalted positions. That is what happened to the early industrialists who formed monopolies; that happened to the early railroad magnates who gave rebates; that happened to some groups of American bankers who became predatory and played ducks and drakes with other peoples' money. Sooner or later that will happen to those labor leaders who not only use economic but political weapons to enrich themselves and fortify their power.

And Barry Goldwater and William Knowland serve as an advance guard in this particular battle, just as in 1932, Franklin D. Roosevelt fought Prohibition and was elected on that issue.

A Republic is a form of government in which the people express a choice both as to the policies and personnel of government. That is not true in a monarchy or an oligarchy or in a dictatorship. It is only true in a Republic. The people's choice may not always be the right one, as history shows, but, at any rate, no self-appointed satrap rules by force. There is an opportunity for rejection. This nature of the Republic, General Charles de Gaulle has so amply demonstrated in recent months, and particularly in extending the right of choice to colonial France.

The right of choice presupposes some interest and intelligence, some enthusiasm, some excitement. Choice must be conscious, for choice involves decision; it involves a positive action. When the citizen goes to the polls to express his right of choice in an election, he expresses a positive act of citizenship based upon an intelligent understanding of what he is doing. At any rate, that is expected of the voter.

When, however, the voter is satisfied with a handshake, with a smirk on television, with ghost-written gibberish, then he sacrifices his fundamental right.

One of the curses of present society is the dislike for controversy. It will be said of a man, "he is a controversial character," by which is meant that he thinks and that he says what he thinks and often does what he thinks is right. Most persons, these days, eschew the controversial. They conform and come out where they started, blah personalities. We are not producing Tom Paines or Abraham Lincolns in American politics these days. It is not fashionable.

So what we come to in a campaign such as we are experiencing in New York State is that two very gentle persons speak of each other in dulcet tones. It is not good enough to sustain the republican form of government.

One of the most serious problems in New York is the combination of racketeers and Communists in restraint of trade on the waterfront. This can, in time, ruin the City of New York. It would be an excellent campaign point. But with regard to it both candidates are silent. Another interesting point that the Republicans might pick up to assail the Democrats with is the corrupt system of municipal inspection of buildings and the Democrats might defend themselves.

Thus far, except for Vice President Nixon, the Republicans do not attack and the Democrats do not defend. Nobody says anything and nobody cares about anything. They are running but where to and what for must be a puzzle to the candidates. The voters do not know either.

Church Bombings And The Communist Party

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Bombings in the South and then in the Middle West — Peoria, Illinois — and now also in Boston are part of the nationwide activity of those who want to make it appear the United States is denying religious freedom. Not only Jewish places of worship but a religious center of a non-Jewish sect have been bombed.

On the authority of a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee which last year heard testimony about Communist connections with the bombing of a home in Louisville, Kentucky, it can be stated that the Communists are busily engaged in infiltrating the churches, the parent-teachers associations, the colleges and the high schools as well as labor organizations.

The report filed in the Senate just a few months ago says that the subcommittee as a whole concurred in the findings of the chairman and ranking minority member who conducted the hearings in Memphis last year. The report says:

"Communist activity in the Midsouth area is not a matter of the past. Such activity goes on today."

The pattern of this present-day Communist activity in the Midsouth is highly conspiratorial, deeply cloaked in secrecy. The Communist participants in the conspiracy have taken extraordinary security measures in order to protect their network from detection.

"Members of the Communist network in the Midsouth include men and women who are highly educated, efficient, and give every appearance of respectability.

"Members of the Communist network in the Midsouth apparently are able to transfer their employment from city to city and from state to state, with their transfers expedited by still other members of the network.

People Of Clinton, Tenn., Are Bitter At Eisenhower, Federal Government

By Drew Pearson

They are not so philosophical. They are bitter.

They have now learned that immediately after refusing to see them Eisenhower took three days off playing bridge with Cliff Roberts, his investment broker, Alton Jones of Cities Service, and George Allen, the White House jester; so they are wondering whether the President places bridge-playing ahead of children.

They are especially bitter over the fact that these are children who are a symbol of the fact that the South did not and does not want to integrate, yet when forced to integrate by Washington gets no help from Washington.

"When we were forced to integrate in 1956," said Judge Yarnell, "the government gave us no protection. We asked for it, but they said that the protection of the school and the children was our own local problem. We finally licked that problem, and for the last two years had been getting along fine."

"Then when our schoolhouse is blown up, Washington again says this is your problem. It isn't fair. We get practically no help in rebuilding our school. We still can't understand why the President wouldn't even bother to see us. It isn't fair."

The people of Clinton are proud people. At first they didn't like the idea of what they called "charity." "We can't go out and pass the hat," remarked one of them. But faced with the problem of virtually no help from Washington, plus the fact that they now have to build two new high schools, junior and senior, they gratefully consented to let others try to help. They thought perhaps the rebuilding of their school might become a monument to law and order, an expression of aroused public indignation against the bombings of schools and places of worship every place in the nation.

Stock Margins

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—The Federal Reserve Board, in juggling margins on stocks will be as effective in checking speculation as it is in controlling inflation by tinkering with the bank discount rate.

The speculation is not stemming from an excessive use of credit in the market. Neither is the inflation due to easy credit.

The Federal Reserve Board, in boosting margins on stock purchase to 90 per cent and in increasing the bank discount rate thinks that controlling credit will do the job.

Its tight money policies have failed to control the inflation, and with their re-imposition at this stage of a business recovery can well slow down or stall the economy.

The Federal Reserve is ignoring the factors behind the stock market's boom and the inflation.

The stock market has been rising because there is a flight from the dollar. Investors of all classes — little and big — institutional and individual — have been selling bonds and buying equities.

In this same period, non-Government credit has gone from $10 billion to $450 billion and the Government debt from $15 billion to more than $280 billion.

The Federal Reserve Board is chasing the wrong "rabbit."

The market record shows that Federal Reserve changes in margins have had little long-time influence.

In 1945 when the Fed moved margins in two jumps from 40 per cent to 100, anyone who sold on the "news" would have missed 36 per cent of the market's rise.

When the Federal Reserve reversed itself in 1947, cutting margins to 75 per cent, the market instead of being a "buy" lost nearly 10 per cent of its value.

After the Board cut margins again in 1949 to 50 per cent, the market had a better than 10 per cent drop. When in 1951 margins were put back to 75 per cent, the market added 10 per cent to values in the following eight months.

In 1955, when the Federal made two increases from 50 to 60 and then to 70 per cent, the market went ahead for a month and then lost all that gain and 27% points more in the next six months.

As for the Federal Reserve's contentions in hiking margins that an excessive amount of credit is flowing into the stock market, the figures do not bear this out.

The amount of credit extended

Most persons think of adolescence as a period of life when frustrations, anxieties, and bewilderment are rife. These pseudo-adults become even more confused when given improper guidance or unwarranted criticism.

Psychosomatic disorders may encourage delinquency and problems concerned with sex and school work. Vice versa also is true. Emotional factors such as anxiety, hostility, and ill feelings toward parents are more common causes of poor grades than are laziness, poor study habits, or lack of concentration.

Physicians, chaplains, and school advisers usually have some insight into problems of this kind and blend professional knowledge with the psychological needs and personality of the adolescent.

Research is most needed in diseases that begin in adolescence and threaten the work, ability, and life of the adult. These include poor posture and walking habits, diabetes, high blood pressure, obesity, thyroid disorders, and visual defects. There are no preventive vaccines to ward off many of these conditions but the secret of their inception may be uncovered when researchers pay

ACCIDENTAL POISONING

Mrs. T. writes: What is the best thing to do for a child who swallows an insecticide?

REPLY

Induce vomiting and call a physician or take the child to the emergency room of the nearest hospital. Bring along the container so the physician will know what active ingredients and solvents are contained in the product. Treatment consists of washing out the stomach or inducing vomiting as soon as possible. Management beyond this depends upon the nature of the poison and the organs affected.

FLYING EARACHE

C. M. writes: Why do both my ears pain when I fly in a pressurized plane?

REPLY

If you do not have a cold, it may be that a change in pressure causes blockage of your eustachian tubes. This happens more readily in some persons than in others, especially if there is an abundance of adenoidal tissue surrounding the opening of the eustachian tubes.

CATCHING RINGWORM

T. C. writes: Can an adult catch ringworm from a child who has a spot on his hand?

REPLY

Yes, because ringworm is contagious.

In the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamp and envelope is sent. Letters of inquiry will be accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Pitt Will Test Unbeaten, Untied Army On Saturday

West Virginia Coach Praises Panther Team

"Nobody Will Run Too Much Against Pitt," Lewis Says

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Undefeated and untied Army has a lonesome end and the Pitt Panthers plan to make him more lonesome than ever this Saturday.

The fast-charging line hopes to break up the Cadets' passing attack that will leave their end "too lonely."

In registering their fourth victory against one defeat Saturday, the Panthers won the admiration of West Virginia coach Art (Pappy) Lewis.

"Tell you one thing," Lewis said. "Nobody's gonna run too much against Pitt."

The Panthers hope Lewis is as accurate a seer as he is a judge of talent. Army has an all-American candidate in Pete Dawkins, a fierce runner who suffered a pulled thigh muscle in his leg last week. But he will be ready for duty this week.

Army fullback Harry Walters is a doubtful starter because of a sprained ankle. Last year the Army defeated Pitt, 29-14, at West Point and rolled up 273 yards on the ground.

But Pitt rates sixth in the nation in defense this season, a statistic they hope to retain against Dawkins and his running teammate Bob Anderson.

The Panthers opened preparations for Army Monday at nearly full strength. Reserve fullback Bob Stark possibly will miss his second game because of torn ligaments. Guard Norton Seaman, a placekicker, has recovered from an ankle injury after sitting out the last two games.

Terps' Mentor Makes Changes

Breedlove Idle Due To Injuries

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Coach Tommy Mont, in an effort to better Maryland's dismal football record, Monday made some wholesale changes in the second and third teams.

Ted Kershner, who returned to action in Saturday's 27-0 loss to North Carolina for the first time since the opener, was moved from right half to No. 2 left half where he will alternate with Gene Verardi on the first team. Dwayne Fletcher was made No. 3 left half. Bob Gallagher was moved up to No. 2 right half and John Stitt took over the No. 3 spot.

Bob Boss was moved up from the B-team to the No. 3 right tackle place, and Vince Scott, who had been out with an ankle injury, returned to right end on the No. 2 team.

Both first team guards, Rodney Breedlove and Tom Gunderman, missed Monday's practice with injuries received Saturday. They will skip contact work for a couple of days but are expected to see action next Saturday against mighty Auburn.

Anxious Moment Defeats One-Eyed King At Belmont

ELMONT, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack R. Hogan's Anxious Moment proved best in the stretch drive to win the 19th running of the $20,300 New York Handicap as the fall meeting ended today at Belmont Park. Racing continues here for two days tomorrow and Wednesday for the annual United Hunts Meeting and then shifts to Jamaica for the balance of the New York season, ending Nov. 29.

Anxious Moment, 4-year-old gelding son of Magic Red-Some Anxiety, ridden by Willie Shoemaker, scored by three quarters of a length over Cain Hoy Stable's One-Eyed King, Lukewarm public choice, who took the place by a like margin over C. Mahlon Kline's Mystic 2nd. Three lengths out of the money came Sanford Stud Farm's Rafty. The time for the mile and three eighths on the turf was a moderate 2:17 1/5.

The victory was worth $18,745 net for Hogan, a Chicago insurance executive who purchased Anxious Moment for $35,000 from Owen J. Ryan just before the horse's previous victory on Oct. 6 at Belmont.

Given but casual support in the betting by the crowd of 21,103, Anxious Moment returned mutuels of $20.60, $8.40 and $5.30. One-Eyed King paid $5.40 and $4.30 and Mystic 2nd was 6.40 to show.

Officiating "Pathetic," Kansas Grid Coach Says

Mitchell Calls Two Sooner TDs "Gifts"

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI)—Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell Monday said the officiating in Saturday's Oklahoma game was "pathetic," and Big Eight Conference Commissioner R. E. Peters agreed that it "apparently was lousy."

"Never during my playing or coaching days have I witnessed such an exhibition," Mitchell told the Kansas City, Kan., Quarterback Club.

Oklahoma beat Kansas, 43-0.

Turning to Peters, who was a guest, Mitchell continued, "If Big Eight officiating stays as it is, Commissioner Peters must accept the responsibility."

Mitchell earlier Monday had commented that two of Oklahoma's touchdowns were gifts—and Oklahoma Coach Bob Anderson agreed with him on one of them—but did not mention it at the Quarterback Club until a member asked him to comment.

Then Peters asked for the floor and made an impromptu address which later won loud applause.

Late Market Rally Fails To Offset Profit-Taking

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stiff profit-taking sent stocks lower Monday on reduced volume.

The market met some good support just before the close which lifted prices from their lows for the session. The high-speed reporting tickers ran late near the close.

The late rally was spurred by a government estimate that the production of goods and services in the nation in the third quarter rose sharply to an annual rate of 440 billion dollars.

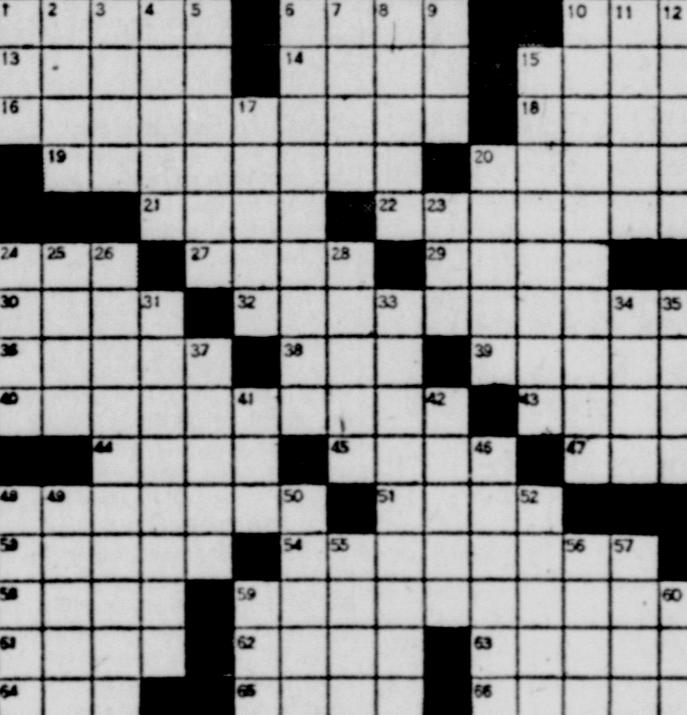

A New York Stock Exchange report that short interest declined to the lowest level in six months also helped sentiment, even though the report was published after the close of trading. The decline had been anticipated.

Short interest represents bor-

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures prices closed about steady today on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1/4 to 1 cent; corn off 1/2 to 1/4 cent; oats off 1/4 cent; rye off 1/4 to up 1/4 cent; soybeans off 1/4 cent.

Wheat trade lapsed into a quiet affair with little activity. Some local traders prices into firm tones. Local traders did most buying. Commercial houses bought December corn on the decline. Weather is continuing excellent for harvest operations.

Outs had a feature trade. The market was quiet.

Soybeans held steady on the strength of early buying activity. Cash interests, however, sold. Bean harvests have been reported almost completed.

Grains at outside markets closed steady. The range:

Optimistic Note Marks GOP Caravan

Over 500 Hear Senator Beall In Home Town

Members of a GOP Caravan which toured Allegany County yesterday climaxed their visit with a rally in Frostburg and reported they were optimistic as a result of tours throughout Maryland.

Addressing a standing room only crowd of some 500 in the Frostburg State Armory, U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall reported he was glad to be in his home county after a tour of Baltimore City and the 23 counties.

He said he was very optimistic as a result of the tour and that he and his running mates received warm welcomes in all parts of the state.

Sen. Beall pointed out that his opponent said here last Monday that "Senator Beall was not very well known in Baltimore City." The Senator commented that he believes he is "more favorably known."

He also lashed out at the Pollock machine in Baltimore City.

Proud To Have State

George Henderson, former chief judge and Army colonel, introduced General James P. S. Devereux and cited the candidate's record as a war hero and a prisoner of war.

He said Rep. Devereux has been elected four times to Congress from Maryland's Second District, each time by greater majorities in the predominantly Democratic district.

The Gubernatorial candidate said he was "proud to head the great Republican ticket with such excellently qualified running mates."

Mr. Devereux cited the accomplishments of the Maryland Republican administration, including the road modernization program and the expansion of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Pledges State's Share

He cited for the record that his speech before the teachers in Baltimore made clear that state and local governments each have responsibilities to be upheld and that as far as the teachers are concerned, would see to it, if elected, that the state upholds its responsibility and carries its fair burden.

Rep. Devereux said he has called on his opponent all during the campaign to talk on issues, adding:

"Now that he has tried to talk on issues his speeches have not been very intelligent."

He cited as an example Mr. Tawes' promise to grant teachers pay raises without a tax increase adding:

"That can not be very intelligent... if so... my opponent must be wasting some of the state's money."

He said that if his opponent can grant a pay increase without a boost in taxes he must be a "magician" and he did not believe intelligent people of Maryland will believe his opponent is a magician.

He also lashed out at the Pollock machine and machine politics in general.

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, introduced by Earl E. Manges, said 31 of the bills and resolutions he introduced have been enacted into law adding, he would match this record of accomplishments with any legislator who entered Congress the same time he did.

He said four of his bills and two companion bills directly affected Sixth District citizens. Cited were the bills which made Social Security possible for police and firemen, and tax relief for small business.

Rep. Hyde said his opponent's campaign continues to be a campaign of misstatement of facts. He said he has been charged with voting against a bill to help economically distressed areas.

"This is not true," he said, and the vote is a matter of record.

Program Of Action Dinner Set Oct. 29 By C Of C

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will hold a "Program of Action" dinner meeting Wednesday, October 29, in the Ali-Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Earl D. Chaney, president, will preside at the meeting which will open at 6:30 p. m. with a buffet dinner.

During the meeting, each member will be given an opportunity to present what he believes to be the most important job the Chamber should undertake during the next year or so.

A plan designed to allow those present to present, discuss and consider proposals in a short period will be used at the meeting.

Top GOP Caravan Speakers

James P. S. Devereux, Republican candidate for Governor, is greeted by former Chief Judge George Henderson at a rally last night in Frostburg which climaxed an all-day GOP Caravan tour of the county. Members of the Caravan team left to right, are Robert A. Wallace, candidate for attorney general; Judge Henderson, Senator J. Glenn Beall, who is seeking reelection; Gen. Devereux, Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who is seeking reelection, and John A. Derr, candidate for comptroller. The well attended rally was held last night in the Frostburg National Guard Armory.

Three Appeals Are Handled In Court Here

Three appeal cases were disposed of yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court by Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Robert E. Adams, 22, of 209 Hay Street, who was charged with contributing to the delinquency of three minor boys, entered a plea of guilty. Judge Harris reduced a two-year sentence in the Maryland House of Correction to one year which he will begin serving at the conclusion of a sentence he is now serving in Allegany County jail on a motor vehicle violation.

On August 27 he was taken before Fred Anderson in Juvenile Court and was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction, which was suspended if the defendant paid Mrs. Wellings $25 during June and $50 every month thereafter.

Both Mr. Wellings and Mrs. Wellings testified in the appeal case yesterday. They have been separated for six months, according to testimony. Attorney William A. Gunter, counsel for Mr. Wellings, said his client did not desert his wife.

She said she was ordered from the house and that she had received $175 toward her support in the past six months. He agreed to pay Mrs. Wellings $20 a month if she doesn't come back to his home. Judge Harris found him not guilty.

A motor vehicle appeal case originally heard by Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick was also heard yesterday.

Joseph E. Campbell, who pleaded not guilty, was fined $15 and court costs yesterday on a charge of failing to keep to the right center of the highway.

A similar fine was imposed by Magistrate Dick on July 18. Campbell was involved in a two-car accident April 26 atop Town Hill on U. S. Route 40.

Holy Name Unit Plans Breakfast

The Communion breakfast of the Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society will be held next Sunday following the 9 a. m. mass at St. Mary's Church.

Frank Werner, president of the unit, said last night that Rev. Francis Montgomery, pastor of St. Michael's parish, Frostburg, and newly-appointed spiritual director of the WM Section, will be guest speaker.

Toasting master at the breakfast will be John Coyle. Tickets may be purchased from the parish ticket committee. Those who plan to attend are asked to meet at 8:45 a. m. in the basement of the church. They will march in a body to the church for Mass.

Week-Old Boy Has First Tooth

A week-old boy who lives in Ridgeley already has his first tooth.

He is Paul Edwin Hardy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hardy, of 19 Potomac Street. The attending physician said the child has a tooth right in front of his lower gums.

Apparently the initial tooth is not bothering the child. Last Monday the child was born in Memorial Hospital. His mother is the former Miss Ruby Jean McFarland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McFarland. She is a graduate of Ridgeley High School where she was a cheerleader.

And it is the McFarland's first grandchild. The father is a construction worker currently employed at the site of the new church building of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Washington Street.

The dinner meeting is open to all members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber, said that if any resident of the area has an idea for the action program, he will see that it is brought to the attention of the Chamber.

Purpose of the meeting, it was explained, is to get ideas for action.

City Dams Dip As Drought Continues

Water consumption last week averaged 11,435,000 gallons daily, up slightly from a year ago.

Dry weather has affected both city dams, as Lake Gordon was two feet, three inches below the crest, and Lake Koon eight feet, three inches below its spillway.

Parking meter collections for the week of October 12 totaled $735.45, a decrease of $112.10 over the week before.

The dinner meeting is open to all members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber, said that if any resident of the area has an idea for the action program, he will see that it is brought to the attention of the Chamber.

A plan designed to allow those present to present, discuss and consider proposals in a short period will be used at the meeting.

Union Will Meet

Local 616, Laborers Union, will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Filter Plant Study Nears Completion

Two To Be Affected By Retirement Plan

Water Commissioner G. Ray Light has partially completed a full study of the operation of the Lake Gordon filtration plant and in the near future will report to the Mayor and Council on his findings.

It was pointed out that the recent order of the Mayor and Council, providing for mandatory retirement at age 70, goes into effect on November 1.

The order affects two members of the Water Department, Andrew G. Bender, 72, chief clerk of the Water Department office for many years, and George J. Lydinger, 87, caretaker for the Fort Hill reservoir here.

Subject to the approval of the Civil Service Commission, James F. Twigg, clerk in the Water Department office, is to be promoted and the present classification of clerk may be abolished, a City Hall spokesman said, and depending on the work load, it is possible that a female employee will be hired.

An order creating the position of a second clerk in the Water Department was passed by the Mayor and Council yesterday.

The above plan, it was explained, would result in a saving to the city. Even if an additional employee were hired, it was explained, the city would save about $300 annually.

Some arrangements are to be made, it was reported, to replace Mr. Lydinger, but the appointment will be on a temporary basis as studies reveal it will undoubtedly be possible to abolish the position after automatic equipment is installed so that the operation of the reservoir and pumps can be checked at the filtration plant.

Similar equipment is already in operation at the city's sewage treatment plant.

Attending from Western Maryland were Dr. Adam Baer and Dr. James G. Steele, of Frostburg; Dr. R. Neil Williams and Dr. Lowell Williams, Westernport; Dr. Rita Brinker, Dr. E. W. Larson, Dr. Harold S. Malin and Dr. Jack L. Murray, of Cumberland.

His brother, Edward Thomas Rockwell, 17, same address, was sentenced to two years in the reformatory. However, Judge Harris suspended the sentence and placed the younger brother on probation under supervision of David Steele, probation officer in Allegany County.

The two brothers pleaded guilty to the charge. They were indicted by the October grand jury. The burglary of the junk yard storeroom of Walter Brock occurred on June 23.

Authorities said the pistol was valued at $21.

Two Brothers Plead Guilty To Burglary

Two local brothers, charged with entering a storeroom in South Cumberland and taking a 22 calibre target pistol and $270 in cash, were sentenced yesterday morning in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris, who presided at the trial, sentenced Albert Theodore Rockwell, 21, of 612 Virginia Avenue, to two years in the Reformatory for Males.

His brother, Edward Thomas Rockwell, 17, same address, was sentenced to two years in the reformatory.

Both brothers pleaded guilty to the charge. They were indicted by the October grand jury. The burglary of the junk yard storeroom of Walter Brock occurred on June 23.

Authorities said the pistol was valued at $21.

Dr. Figge Re-Elected Head Of Cancer Unit

Dr. Frank H. J. Figge has been elected president of the Maryland Division, American Cancer Society, for the second consecutive year.

Dr. Figge is professor of anatomy at the University of Maryland School of Medicine and is active in the field of cancer research.

He is a native of Silver Cliff, Colo., and is also trustee of the Biological Stain Commission for the American Society of Zoolologists.

City Tax Collection May Hit $200,000

City tax collections were heavy yesterday, the deadline for payment without interest.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, said yesterday's collections, mostly by mail, were expected to be about $200,000.

Beginning today, interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month and dating back to the August 18 levy-setting date, will be charged.

The deadline for completion of vocational rehabilitation training depends upon a person's separation date, the date service-connected disability was established or other factors.

1. The disability entitles him to VA compensation, or would entitle him to VA compensation if he were not receiving military retired pay:

2. He was discharged or released under other than dishonorable conditions.

3. VA determines he needs vocational training to overcome the handicap of service-connected disability.

Retired members who believe they may be eligible for this training should get full details at the local office, Mr. Weston said.

The deadline for completion of vocational rehabilitation training depends upon a person's separation date, the date service-connected disability was established or other factors.

Scout Units Get Honors For Camping

Presentation Made At Camporee Here

Two Boy Scout Troops and two Explorer Posts of Nemacolin Trail District, Potomac Council, received high honors at the recent Camporee held at the Cumberland Fair grounds.

Receiving the Pioneer Citation for outstanding camping ability were Troop 9, sponsored by Cresaptown Methodist Church; Troop 89, sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran Church; Post 13, First Presbyterian Church, and Post 92, sponsored by Emmanuel Methodist Church.

In order to be eligible for this award, scout units must first win the other two citations for the Camporee which are the camping and participation awards. Then the unit must hike at least one-half a mile to the camp, bake its own bread, use no canned foods and cook by fires built without the use of matches.

Patrols of 10 troops received the Camping Citation based on the basic camping skills performed as individuals and as patrols.

Winners in this group were Troop 7, Cumberland Rotary; Troop 87, Northeast Elementary School; Troop 79, Oldtown PTA-Sportsman Club; Troop 80, Bowling Green Fire Company; Troop 2, B&O YMCA; Troop 89, St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and Troop 48, St. John's Episcopal Church, Frostburg.

Awarded Participation Citations were patrols from Troop 48, Troop 80, Troop 7, Troop 79, Troop 87, Troop 2, Troop 6 and Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church. This award was based on scouting craft.

Each troop or post who won an honor at the Camporee received a printed citation suitable for framing.

Nearly 200 scouts, explorers and leaders took part in the three-day camping trip. Paul Cornwell, district camping and activities chairman, was in charge of the program and John Kington was Camporee director.

Harold E. Naughton, defense attorney, told the jurors in his opening statement that his client had no intention of killing Sisler or of committing a crime because at the time of the shooting he was "stinking drunk". Parker did not have control of his mental faculties at the time due to the drinking he had done during the hours preceding the shooting, Naughton claimed.

State's Attorney James S. Getty told the jurors that Parker got the shotgun and fired at Sisler after having made threats previously
